VALUE YOU RECEIVE

This is not only content. This is a complete growth system.

Content that makes Anaya Couture Studio the obvious choice

Every shoot and reel is styled to make direct fashion buyers stop scrolling and start browsing.

Festive and seasonal planning, handled

We plan Anaya Couture Studio's content calendar around the festive seasons that actually drive ethnic wear sales — so you're never scrambling last-minute.

A consistent, premium brand look

From your feed to your WhatsApp catalogue, Anaya Couture Studio presents like an established, trustworthy name.

Influencer and UGC-style content that converts

We create content that feels authentic to direct fashion buyers, not like an ad — because that's what actually drives ethnic wear purchases.

Support for both retail and wholesale buyers

Whether Anaya Couture Studio sells to walk-ins or bulk buyers, your content speaks to both audiences.

Faster replies, more conversions

Automated WhatsApp flows mean direct fashion buyers get instant responses — even outside business hours.

Clear monthly reporting

You'll see exactly how many enquiries and orders Anaya Couture Studio's content is generating each month.

Built to scale with every festive season

The same system gets reused and refined every season — no rebuilding your marketing from scratch each year.

Choose the plan that matches your growth pace.

Every plan below draws from the same catalog of services — the difference is duration, scale, and monthly value.

Why This Proposal Works

Built from your business context, not a generic template.

Understanding Your Business

Anaya Couture Studio sits in a category where direct fashion buyers are shopping with their eyes first — fabric, drape, colour, and finish all need to come through in every photo and reel before a buyer ever asks about price. Right now, most of that visual story is being left on the table: content goes out inconsistently, festive windows get missed, and Anaya Couture Studio competes on discounts instead of desirability.

Our Approach

We build Anaya Couture Studio a full content and campaign engine — a shoot calendar mapped to the festive seasons that actually move ethnic wear, scroll-stopping reels and lookbooks, and WhatsApp-based follow-up so no enquiry goes cold. Every piece of content is built to move direct fashion buyers from browsing to buying, not just to look good in isolation.

Why Veltrix

We've built this exact system for ethnic wear and fashion brands before — we know the festive calendar, we know what direct fashion buyers respond to, and we know how to present Anaya Couture Studio as a premium, established name rather than one of a hundred lookalike accounts.

Payment Terms

Payment Terms

50% advance to begin, balance on delivery of the first month's content. Content calendar is finalized within the first 7 days of onboarding. Ad spend (if applicable) is billed separately at cost, with no markup. Cancellation requires 15 days' written notice.

Common Questions

The questions we hear most from businesses considering this proposal.

Why does this cost more than a freelancer?

A freelancer gives you content. This gives Anaya Couture Studio a full system — planning, shooting, campaign management, and follow-up — built around the festive calendar that actually drives ethnic wear sales.

How soon can we start seeing results for Anaya Couture Studio?

Most direct fashion buyers see a visible lift in enquiries within the first 4-6 weeks, with the biggest gains showing up around the next festive window once the content calendar is fully in motion.

How is this different from what is doing?

We're not copying what competitors do — every campaign is built specifically around Anaya Couture Studio's own strengths, pricing position, and the direct fashion buyers you're trying to reach.

What if we've been burned by an agency before?

That's exactly why we report clearly every month — you'll always know what was shot, what was posted, and what it generated, with nothing hidden behind vague 'engagement' metrics.

WHAT CLIENTS SAY

Trusted by businesses like yours

“Finally an agency that treats ROAS like it matters to us as much as it matters to them.”

— A D2C Skincare Founder

Why This Quotation Works

Built specifically around Anaya Couture Studio's festive-season sales cycle, not a generic monthly retainer.

Every tier includes real deliverables and a real bonus — nothing vague or 'best-effort'.

Pricing is transparent — Ananya Shah sees exactly what's included at every level.

Process, Terms And Recommendation
